AirTouch™ N30i.

Live life in high Res

You deserve a good night's sleep.

With the lightest touch yet.

The ResMed AirTouch N30i comes with a flexible, comfortable fabric-wrapped frame and our new ComfiSoft™ nasal cushion that is a ResMed innovation—fabric fused with silicone to create a cushion that feels exceptionally soft and natural.

In your favorite sleep position.

The top-of-the-head tube design keeps things out of your way, making it so much easier to sleep on your side or stomach.

As close as you'd like.

Not only can you snuggle closer with no front-end tube in your way, but the AirTouch N30i is designed to be quieter than a whisper, while minimizing breeze for both you and your bed partner.

"I sleep through the night better ... never even feel it on my face."¹ – AirTouch N30i user
